

Happy Anniversary!

I hope it's been a lot of years
you've held hands and hearts together.
Cherish every ounce of sweetness,
you deserve life's one best pleasure.

Together walk the King's highway and leave your cares behind.
Look at anything that would distract as if your eyes were blind.

This next year will be another lap around the concourse of romance.
Tonight's the time to catch your breath and continue the rhythm of the dance.

The only thing I can't figure,
though my thoughts be in a whirl, how your darling companion came to be the luckiest man in the world!

by Wes Allen Oct. 25, 2005 ArtisticPoet48@aol.com
www.InternationalEbookLibrary.com/LibraryofPoetry.htm

Written for Elaine & Dale Gant on their anniversary.