

Intimate Friendship with God

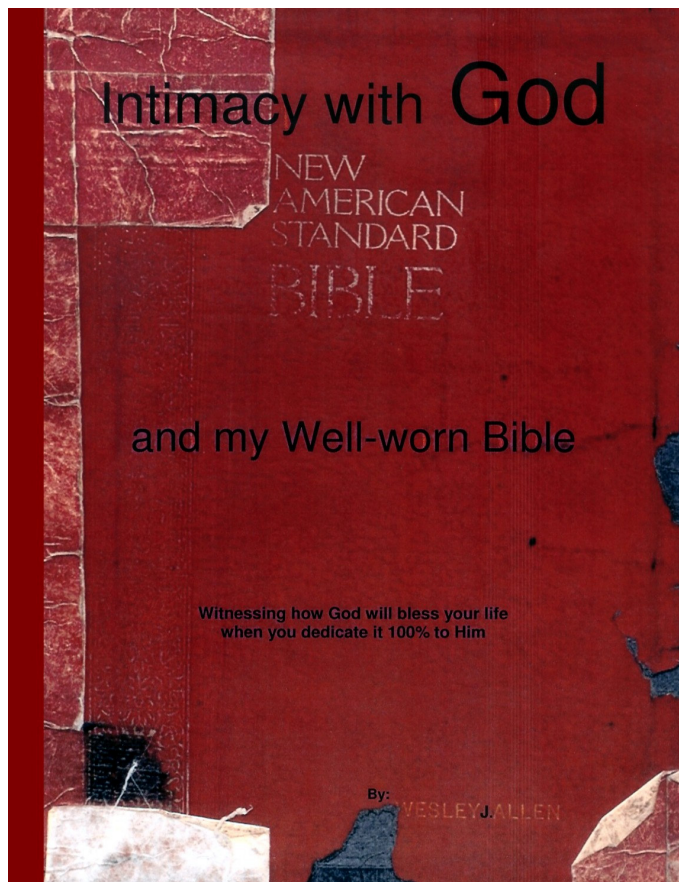

What if God wanted to get a book written called “Intimacy with God and my Well-worn Bible?” Who would He choose to write it?

What if God wanted to show His people that He loves them no matter what they have done while still in their ignorance? Who would He choose to hold up as an example?

What if God wanted to show His people what it’s like to walk in intimacy with Him? What kind of person would He prepare to give the testimony?

What if God wanted to show His people that intimacy with Him begins with reading His story? Would He choose a spokesman with a ragged Bible or a new one?

God chooses the small, the foolish, the ignorant, and the baser things of this world to confound the wisdom of the wise. Why would He not choose to befriend that kooky guy who runs around with a ragged Bible and earphones plugging his ears when not many people will associate with him? Do you think that God who is the ruling King of Heaven and Earth would develop an intimate relationship with a reject?

The covers of this book lend credibility to its content. Could anyone with a Bible like this be a stranger to what it says? Would the one who has spent this much time in the Word of God come to know the God of the Word?

For the last fifteen years God has been and still is my personal Sunday school teacher. I lost my hearing quite suddenly on January 17th of 1992. Since then I have taken very little part in classroom discussions. I hear some things, but not enough to know the specifics of what’s being talked about.

I have, at times, propounded a brilliant oration that would have left the audience breathless; and then I was given the message: That’s nice, and very deep, but that’s not what we’re discussing right now. Over the years I grew silent. But God didn’t leave me out in the cold.

God made a way for me to come to know Him. And He teaches me still more as I walk with Him minute-by-minute. This book tells about my walk with God. It tells of miraculous things that have taken place in my life because God chose to have intimacy with me. It tells of my Bible-reading experiences. It tells of complete dedication to God. It tells how you too can deepen your relationship with Him. Do you want to read this book and see if there’s anything in it for you? The book is available at this website:

<http://InternationalEbookLibrary.com/BibleReadingContest.htm>. Will you chance it? Will you read it and see if your intimacy with God can be enhanced, or if you are on the right track too? Would you share it with those who have not yet given their lives to God? There is hope for everyone. God is gracious and merciful, and intimate with those who really want to be His friend.